Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue aims to explore the causes, diagnosis, and current treatment options for various pregnancy complications from a clinical perspective. Pregnancy complications pose significant challenges to both maternal and fetal health, requiring a comprehensive understanding of their underlying causes and effective management strategies. This Special Issue will feature in-depth discussions on a wide range of pregnancy complications, including gestational diabetes, preeclampsia, placenta previa, preterm labor, and fetal growth restriction. Through a collection of expert articles, this Special Issue seeks to provide healthcare professionals with up-to-date knowledge and evidence-based practices to optimize the care and outcomes for pregnant women experiencing complications.
