Message from the Guest Editor

The present Special Issue aims to collect high-quality reviews, meta-analyses, original articles, and communications with a potential impact on the clinical management of movement disorders. The Special Issue focuses on all aspects of clinical management, starting from relevant diagnostic techniques through to disease progression, symptom monitoring tools, and treatments. Advanced new technologies for teleradiagnosis, telemonitoring, and personalized digital therapeutics are also welcome, along with classic overviews on phenomenology, investigative, translational, and treatment aspects.

Keywords: Parkinson's disease; parkinsonism; tremor; tic; dystonia; chorea; athetosis; ballism; myoclonus; ataxia; diagnosis; symptom monitoring; treatments
