Robotic Urological Surgery: Clinical Updates for Better Outcomes

Message from the Guest Editor

To improve surgical outcomes and patient care in urology through robotic technology, the Special Issue aims to gather cutting-edge research and clinical experiences that highlight the advancements and benefits of robotic surgery in urology.

- Technological Advances: Articles exploring the latest innovations in robotic systems and their applications in urological surgery.
- Clinical Outcomes: Research studies and clinical trials assessing the efficacy, safety, and long-term outcomes of robotic urological procedures.
- Surgical Techniques: Detailed descriptions and evaluations of novel surgical techniques and approaches in robotic urology.
- Surgical Simulation and Navigation: Studies and reviews on the use of surgical simulation and navigation systems to enhance the precision and effectiveness of robotic urological procedures.
- Patient Perspectives: Studies focusing on patient-reported outcomes, satisfaction and quality of life following robotic urological surgery.
- Future Directions: Visionary articles and reviews predicting the future trends and potential developments in robotic urological surgery.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!
