10th Anniversary of JCM— Pathophysiological Mechanisms, Diagnostics for Lung Diseases, and Therapeutic Modalities

Message from the Guest Editor

It gives me great pleasure to announce to our readership that the year 2021 celebrates the 10th anniversary of the JCM. I congratulate the journal on this important milestone. Lung health remains a priority as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to grasp our attention in 2021. As one of the major sections of JCM, we are launching a 10th anniversary Special Issue in the Pulmonology section. To commemorate this important landmark and encourage lung health, we are pleased to announce that we are accepting papers for the Special Issue, entitled Pathophysiological Mechanisms, Diagnostics for Lung Diseases, and Therapeutic Modalities. There is an urgent need to understand lung diseases' pathological mechanisms. At the same time, we need novel diagnostics and tools to detect early changes. Only by understanding what is happening may new therapeutics evolve. Collectively, this will allow early interventions that will lead to better management of patients and will enormously inform clinical practice. To answer these important questions and promote further research, we sincerely welcome your submissions to this Special Issue in the JCM.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!
