Current and Emerging Treatment Options in Colorectal Cancer

Message from the Guest Editor

Colorectal cancer (CRC) remains a major global health challenge, requiring innovative treatment strategies to enhance patient outcomes and improve quality of life. For this Special Issue, we invite original research articles, reviews, and perspectives focusing on current and emerging treatment options for CRC. We welcome contributions addressing topics such as advancements in chemotherapy, immunotherapy, and targeted therapies, as well as the development of combination treatments. Additionally, we invite research on new technologies in CRC surgery, including robotic-assisted procedures, minimally invasive techniques, and intraoperative imaging tools. Studies including clinical trial outcomes, challenges in treatment delivery, and strategies to overcome drug resistance are also within our scope. However, mini-reviews and case reports will not be considered. This Special Issue will advance CRC treatment and foster interdisciplinary collaboration in research and clinical practice.
