New Technologies in Neurosurgery: An Insight into the Future

Message from the Guest Editor

The Special Issue invites researchers in the field of neurosurgery to contribute original research and review articles exploring the cutting-edge technologies transforming neurosurgical practices. The focus is on innovative advancements that have the potential to revolutionize diagnosis, treatment, and patient outcomes in neurosurgery. The key areas of interest for the Special Issue include the integration of artificial intelligence and machine learning into surgical planning, the use of robotics for precision surgeries, advancements in neuroimaging techniques, and the application of augmented and virtual reality in surgical training, etc. The call for papers encourages submissions that highlight interdisciplinary approaches and clinical trials demonstrating the impact of these technologies on patient care. Submissions should offer insightful discussions on the implications of these advancements for the future of neurosurgical practice, including ethical considerations and potential barriers to their widespread adoption.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!
