Advances in the Management of Cardiovascular Disease

Message from the Guest Editors

Cardiovascular diseases are still one of the leading causes of death worldwide. There is still rapid progress in the understanding of pathophysiology, diagnosis, and treatment of cardiovascular diseases. The ongoing progress of medicine makes it possible to improve the prognosis of patients. High-quality scientific studies are needed in order to explore current and new approaches to the pharmacological and non-pharmacological management of cardiovascular disease. The Journal of Clinical Medicine is planning a Special Issue titled “Advances in the Management of Cardiovascular Disease”. It is our great privilege to invite you to contribute to this Special Issue. We are interested in clinical and epidemiological studies and systematic reviews with a focus on the management of cardiovascular disease.
