

Special Issue

Targeted Treatment in Rheumatoid Arthritis

Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue "Targeted Treatment in Rheumatoid Arthritis", is dedicated to advancing our understanding of the latest developments in targeted treatment for this autoimmune disease. The aim of this Special Issue is to present innovative research and insights into new treatment targets and techniques for rheumatoid arthritis patients. We would like to invite original research articles, reviews, and perspectives that focus on the development and utilization of targeted therapies to treat rheumatoid arthritis. However, we regret to inform the authors that we will not consider mini-reviews or case reports for this Special Issue. We welcome submissions from researchers, practitioners, and scholars from around the world who are interested in improving patient outcomes for those with rheumatoid arthritis. Overall, this Special Issue will provide an important platform for exchanging knowledge and exploring new therapeutic solutions for rheumatoid arthritis. We look forward to receiving your submissions and contributing towards advancements in targeted treatments for this condition.
