Plastic Surgery: Innovations and Future Directions

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue, “Plastic Surgery: Innovations and Future Directions”, underscores the importance of exploring the rapidly advancing domain of reconstructive and cosmetic surgery. It aims to resolve the critical need for a holistic platform that articulates novel methodologies, cutting-edge research, and unique clinical dilemmas. We invite diverse submissions on emerging surgical techniques, the surgical realm, and the revolutionary impact of artificial intelligence. Our call for papers extends to global practitioners and academics, fostering an enriching exchange of knowledge. Our goal is to facilitate dialogue, foster innovation, and propel the field of plastic surgery into the future. We believe that your valuable insights can significantly contribute to this meaningful conversation.
