Targeted Treatment of Hematological Malignancy

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to provide a comprehensive overview of the latest advancements and emerging trends in the field of hematology. The collection of articles in this Special Issue will focus on areas, such as novel targeted therapies and their efficacy in different malignancies, immunotherapeutic approaches for hematological malignancies, personalized treatment strategies, as well as diagnostic tools for assessing treatment responses. We welcome original research articles, comprehensive reviews, and meta-analyses that provide valuable insights into the targeted treatment of hematological malignancies. However, please note that this Special Issue will not consider mini-reviews or case reports. This Special Issue presents an excellent opportunity for researchers and clinicians to contribute to advanced targeted treatment options for hematological malignancies. We anticipate that the collection of articles in this Special Issue will provide valuable knowledge and pave the way for future breakthroughs in hematology.
