Treatment and Management of Chronic Inflammatory Bowel Diseases: Optimizing Present and Future Therapeutic Choices

Message from the Guest Editor

The management of inflammatory bowel diseases (IBD) has been revolutionised in recent years, due to the approval of several new therapeutic options, involving new pathways of inflammation. However, less is known about the management of the choice of the right drug to the right patient. The main goal of the future researches in IBD would be directed in this direction, identifying new drug-specific biomarkers, similar to the oncological management. This Issue of Journal of Clinical Medicine is designed to give visibility to all studies that are able to increase knowledge in this perspective.
