Advances in the Field of Cutaneous Malignancies: Background and Clinical Management

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to publish your manuscripts in our Special Issue entitled “Advances in the Field of Cutaneous Malignancies: Background and Clinical Management” in the Journal of Clinical Medicine, which is now open for submissions.

Our present Special Issue will focus on the latest advances in the management of cutaneous malignancies, including the use of various biomarkers, diagnostic devices, imaging techniques (dermoscopy, optical coherence tomography, high-frequency ultrasound, reflectance confocal microscopy, etc.), and novel treatment options. New concepts on early detection, genomic and molecular testing, approaches guiding treatment decisions, and the monitoring of the therapy of cutaneous malignancies are also within the scope. Novel findings on the use of artificial intelligence to enhance the diagnostics of cutaneous malignancies are also welcome.
