

Special Issue

Oral Hygiene: Updates and Clinical Progress

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to provide an in-depth exploration of the latest advancements and clinical developments in oral hygiene. We invite submissions that shed light on various aspects of oral hygiene, including, but not limited to, preventive measures, treatment modalities, technological innovations and patient education. The Special Issue seeks to highlight evidence-based practices and novel approaches that contribute to improving oral health outcomes. We request that authors refrain from submitting mini-reviews and case reports for this Special Issue. Instead, we encourage original research articles, systematic reviews, meta-analyses and clinical trials that provide valuable insights into the field of oral hygiene. By bringing together a collection of high-quality articles, this Special Issue aims to foster knowledge exchange, promote evidence-based practices and advance the understanding of oral hygiene. We believe that this compilation will serve as a valuable resource for dental professionals, researchers and educators worldwide. We look forward to receiving your contributions.
