Gambling, Gaming and Other Behavioural Addictions

Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue on Gambling, Gaming and Other Behavioural Addictions, we aim to expand our understanding of all behavioural addictions (e.g., gambling disorder, internet gaming disorder, problematic social media use). We will accept submissions of full-length articles that address a range of topics including the aetiology of behavioural addictions, screening and assessment measures for behavioural addictions and prevention and treatment approaches for behavioural addictions. We welcome submissions of empirical papers, including systematic reviews and meta-analyses, from various perspectives, such as clinical psychology, epidemiology and public health, psychiatry and neuroscience.
