

Special Issue

Vasculitis in Adults and Children: Symptoms, Diagnosis and Treatment—2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue, “Vasculitis in Adults and Children: Symptoms, Diagnosis and Treatment”, will summarize recent discoveries regarding the symptoms, diagnosis and treatment of vasculitis in both adults and children. Clinical research studies regarding epidemiology, gender difference, prognostic factors, complications, classification criteria and treatment, as well as basic/translational research that tries to identify novel therapeutic targets, are welcome. Through these contributions, we will be able to better understand how to diagnose and treat vasculitis. We will also discuss how future therapeutic strategies could resolve currently unmet medical needs. Thus, authors are encouraged to submit original research, review articles, systematic reviews and meta-analyses.

- vasculitis
- glucocorticoids
- cyclophosphamide

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!
