10th Anniversary of JCM—New Insights and Clinical Management in Obstetrics

Message from the Guest Editor

The year marks the 10th anniversary of the Journal of Clinical Medicine, and, as one of the major sections of JCM, we are launching a 10th anniversary Special Issue in the “Obstetrics & Gynecology” section. Over the past decade, advances were documented in obstetrics. This 10th anniversary Special Issue of the JCM will focus on new insights and clinical management in the field of Obstetrics. Advances will cover pregnancy complications, ultrasound-assisted care, prenatal care, labor and delivery issues (including operative obstetrics), and post-partum matters. Authors are invited to submit studies that will focus on all trimesters of pregnancy and post-partum period including long-term problems of pregnancy complications.
