Myeloid-Derived Suppressor Cells (MDSCs) in Haematology

Message from the Guest Editor

It is my honor to serve as the of the Special Issue “Myeloid-Derived Suppressor Cells (MDSCs) in Haematology” of the Journal of Clinical Medicine, and I would like to invite you to submit a relevant review and/or paper with new data from your research in the field. This issue will serve as a great opportunity to highlight the role of MDSCs in the pathophysiology of immune-mediated and malignant haematologic diseases and how research in the field may advance the clinical practice, particularly in the context of precision medicine.
