Arthritis: From Diagnosis to Treatment

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to contribute to our upcoming Special Issue on inflammatory arthritis. Despite important advancements in arthritis research, significant challenges remain, particularly in the early diagnosis of these conditions and the development of personalized treatments tailored to individual patients. This Special Issue aims to address these issues by focusing on innovative diagnostic methods, such as advanced imaging techniques, and a deeper understanding of disease mechanisms. It will also explore cutting-edge treatments, including disease-modifying anti-rheumatic drugs (DMARDs), biologics, and targeted therapies. This Special Issue hopes to gather innovative ideas that can enhance arthritis care. Ultimately, the goal is to provide patients with faster diagnoses and more effective, tailored treatments, closing gaps in current medical approaches and improving overall outcomes for those living with inflammatory arthritis. We look forward to your valuable contributions!
