

Special Issue

Recent Management of Hip Fractures

Message from the Guest Editor

This call for papers for the Special Issue entitled Recent Management of Hip Fractures seeks to gather diverse perspectives and solutions to these challenges. We particularly welcome submissions on osteoporosis management, fracture prevention strategies, multidisciplinary models of fracture care, and innovations in the surgical treatment of hip fractures. We invite a broad range of contributors, including orthopedic surgeons, rehabilitation specialists, geriatricians, osteoporosis experts, and researchers in related fields, to share their latest findings and insights.
