Novel Developments on Diagnosis and Treatment of Gastrointestinal Cancer

Message from the Guest Editor

The rising global burden of gastrointestinal cancers, to address these challenges, further research is imperative. The development and reassessment of novel and existing diagnostic biomarkers are crucial to improve early detection and treatment outcomes. This Special Issue aims to explore advancements in gastrointestinal cancer diagnosis and therapy, opening new avenues for innovation in the field. We invite you to contribute original research, systematic reviews, and meta-analyses focusing on novel diagnostic markers, targeted delivery methods, treatment mechanisms, and immunotherapies for gastrointestinal cancers, including gastric, colon, and colorectal cancers. We look forward to your valuable contributions.
