Gynecologic and Obstetric Pathologies: From Birth to Menopause (Second Edition)

Message from the Guest Editor

Carrying on from the success of the Special Issue “Gynecologic and Obstetric Pathologies: From Birth to Menopause”, this second edition aims to continue publishing a broad range of original, peer-reviewed papers covering the full spectrum of obstetrics and gynecology.

The journal invites submissions on current high-quality research, reporting selected original experimental and clinical investigations in the fields of gynecology, obstetrics, and human reproduction.

Topics of interest include general gynecology; reproductive medicine; and endocrinology, infertility, pediatric, and adolescent gynecology; menopause; urogynecology; gynecologic oncology; oncofertility; pelvic medicine; sexual medicine; minimally invasive gynecologic surgery; and the pros and cons of various techniques in gynecology and obstetrics; as well as high-risk pregnancy; prenatal diagnosis; maternal–fetal medicine; obstetrics; perinatology; and more. This Special Issue will focus particularly on the diagnosis, prediction, prevention, and treatment of obstetrical and gynecological disorders.
