Latest Advances and Prospects in Macular Edema

Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues and Friends, Accurate diagnostic methods and targeted therapies have been long-sought-after in the medical field ever since the rise of precision medicine. As we acquire new tools to investigate retinal diseases, we gain new insights into specific pathophysiological pathways leading to macular edema. Artificial intelligence and new molecular biological techniques are ushering in a new understanding of diabetes, retinal vein occlusions, and inflammatory diseases. This approach may profoundly impact our clinical practice, allowing us to identify, classify, and predict macular involvement in retinal diseases. This Special Issue aims to explore the latest advances in the investigation and management of macular edema and present a way forward for future perspectives.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Medicine, General and Internal) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Medicine)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.7 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.7 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
