Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue focuses on smart technologies, with a specific focus on the shipbuilding. Smart technologies such as AI, big data, and digital twin are emerging area and gaining popularity with the wave of 4th Industrial Revolution. It is expected that the application of smart technologies in the shipbuilding industry will bring improved global industrial competitiveness through unmanned, autonomous, and intelligent production.

We invite researchers from both academia and industry to submit original articles that advance state-of-the-art smart technologies or review the progress and future directions of research in this field. The scope of the Special Issue covers the range of subjects relevant to shipbuilding.

Journal of Marine Science and Engineering (JMSE, ISSN: 2077-1312) focuses on research in the fields of Ocean Engineering, Coastal Engineering, Physical Oceanography, Geological Oceanography, Marine Biology, and Marine Environmental Science. It publishes reviews, regular research papers, and short communications, as well as Special Issues on particular subjects. Our aim is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical results in as much detail as possible. There is no restriction on the maximum length of the papers.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed with Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, GeoRef, Inspec, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Marine) / CiteScore - Q2 (Ocean Engineering)
