Message from the Guest Editor

I am pleased to announce the launch of a new Special Issue focused on marine environmental science. This Special Issue will contribute to the publication of high-quality research focused on all of the main aspects of marine environmental science, including coastal and marine resource management, environmental aspects of oceanography, fisheries science, marine biotechnology, marine ecosystems, marine pollution, and environmental toxicology, to mention just a few. Submissions of high-quality original research on all of the branches of marine environmental science mentioned above, as well as other relevant topics, are welcome and encouraged.
