Women's Special Issue Series: Marine Science and Engineering

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue is part of JMSE's Women's Special Issue Series and focuses on all aspects related to women's contributions in marine science and engineering to advocate the advancement of women in marine science and engineering. We welcome works that highlight the achievements, challenges, and innovations led by women in this field. The submission of articles with all-women authorship is especially encouraged. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to

- Marine biodiversity and conservation;
- Oceanographic research and technology;
- Marine environmental sustainability;
- Gender-specific challenges in marine science;
- Innovations in marine engineering;
- Case studies of women's contributions to marine projects.

We also encourage submissions that explore gender-specific challenges and opportunities within marine science and engineering. Papers that do not directly fit these areas but offer significant insights into women's roles and impacts in marine science will also be considered.
