Advances in Marine Engineering: Geological Environment and Hazards

Message from the Guest Editors

With the continuous advancement of coastal, offshore, and deep-sea engineering construction (e.g., marine resource development, offshore wind power projects, etc.), research on marine geological environments and hazards have gradually deepened and many research advances have been achieved. Therefore, this Special Issue has been organized by Prof. Xiaolei Liu, Prof. Thorsten Stoesser, and to document these research advances. The objective of this Special Issue is to collect research papers in the field of marine geological environments and hazards, including geological environments, geological hazards, engineering geology, hydrodynamics, fluid environments, and geotechnical engineering. This Special Issue invites contributions on in situ observations, indoor tests, numerical simulations, and theoretical analysis on marine geological environments and hazards. Contributions may also include case studies, review articles, or short communications.
