Floating Wave–Wind Energy Converter Plants

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to collect papers that present recent research advances related to all aspects of floating wave–wind energy converter plants. Topics of interest for publication include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Joint development of wind and wave energy;
- Innovative concepts and technologies;
- Multi-body hydrodynamic modelling and simulations;
- Coupled dynamics and control;
- Prediction of extreme response and loads on floating structures;
- Structural design of floating wave–wind energy converters;
- Model testing of floating wave–wind energy converter;
- AI-technology applications in floating wave–wind energy converter;
- Nonlinear and viscous effects on hydrodynamic performance.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The Journal of Marine Science and Engineering (JMSE, ISSN 2077-1312) is an international peer-reviewed open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies related to marine science and engineering. The journal aims to provide scholarly research on a range of topics, including ocean engineering, chemical oceanography, physical oceanography, marine biology and marine geosciences. We invite you to publish in our journal sharing your important research findings with the global ocean community.

Editor-in-Chief

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed with Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, GeoRef, Inspec, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Marine) / CiteScore - Q2 (Ocean Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 1.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
