

Special Issue

Morphodynamic Evolution and Sustainable Development of Coastal Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

To capture the breadth of research, this Special Issue will cover a range of topics from process understanding to knowledge sharing and applications of new understanding. The common theme throughout the contributed papers will be the focus on coastal morphodynamics, including: sediment transport, morphological evolution, coastal erosion, storm impacts, influence of biota on morphology, impacts of coastal developments, natural and human-made future scenarios, and adaptation strategies. We invite papers related to these or similar topics. Keywords

- sediment transport
- coastal erosion
- morphological changes
- morphological processes
- extreme coastal impacts
- sea level rise
- anthropogenic effects
- adaptation strategies
- effects of biotic factors
- modelling

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The Journal of Marine Science and Engineering (JMSE), ISSN 2077-1312 is an international peer-reviewed open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies related to marine science and engineering. The journal aims to provide scholarly research on a range of topics, including ocean engineering, chemical oceanography, physical oceanography, marine biology and marine geosciences. We invite you to publish in our journal sharing your important research findings with the global ocean community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed with Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, GeoRef, Inspec, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Marine) / CiteScore - Q2 (Ocean Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 1.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
