Neuroimaging Biomarkers for Precision Medicine in Neuropsychiatry: A Multidisciplinary Update

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue is dedicated to highlighting the transformative impact of neuroimaging biomarkers within the realm of precision medicine, specifically in neuropsychiatry. We aim to provide a comprehensive overview of the latest advancements, methodologies, and applications in neuroimaging technologies that are redefining diagnostic and therapeutic approaches to neuropsychiatric disorders. This Special Issue will serve as a comprehensive resource for researchers, clinicians, and policymakers interested in harnessing the potential of neuroimaging biomarkers to revolutionize neuropsychiatric care. We invite researchers, clinicians, and policymakers to submit manuscripts that reflect the dynamic nature of this field to further our understanding and application of neuroimaging biomarkers in neuropsychiatry.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Journal of Personalized Medicine (JPM), ISSN 2075-4426) is an international, open access journal aimed at bringing all aspects of personalized medicine to one platform. JPM publishes cutting edge, innovative preclinical and translational scientific research and technologies related to personalized medicine (e.g., precision medicine, pharmacogenomics/proteomics, systems biology, 'omics association analysis). JPM is covered in Scopus, the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE), PubMed, PMC, Embase, and other databases.
