Message from the Guest Editors

Since the 2008 financial crisis, modeling of the extreme values of financial risk has become important. Postgraduate programs, as well as PhD research programs, in mathematical finance are cropping up in nearly every university. Additionally, many conferences are being held annually on the topic of extreme financial risk. The aim of this Special Issue is to provide a collection of papers from leading experts in the area of extreme financial risk. The topics covered in this Special Issue will include, but are not limited to:

- Catastrophic risk
- Drought risk
- Flood risk
- Health risk
- Financial risk
