

Special Issue

Politics and Investment

Message from the Guest Editor

We are soliciting manuscripts for a Special Issue on Politics and Investments in the Journal of Risk and Financial Management. The Special Issue aims to cover broad areas of politics and finance, including how different political structures and processes (e.g., elections, political announcements and ideologies) affect financial markets, corporate financial decisions (investment, investment efficiency, capital structure, CEO labor market), and asset allocation (risk and valuation). We encourage both empirical and theoretical papers that consider existing and new data-sets on politics and finance and innovative empirical methodologies. The Special Issue is open to both international and country-specific studies.
