Effective Governance and Financing Models for Public-Private Partnerships

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue focuses on exploring effective governance and financing models for public-private partnerships (PPPs). The topics of interest cover, but are not limited to, crucial issues such as project performance (e.g., stability of cooperation, success in completion, absence of excessive cost overruns, etc.). These can be both characteristics of the project (e.g., financial and risk management, external support, and partners) and the characteristics of the environment where it is carried out (e.g., economic or institutional stability), as well as their interactions. Likewise, works related to financial innovation, legal or environmental aspects, and international business aspects are of interest if the main partner of the project is foreign. Research exploring the promotion of PPPs to achieve SDGs, especially in developing countries, would also be suitable. Both project-level work and analyses of sets of projects are welcome. The objective of this Special Issue is to provide a platform for knowledge exchange and discussion of the best practices in the governance and financing of public-private partnerships.
