

Special Issue

Machine Learning Applications in Finance, 2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editor

FinTech is a mainstream research topic in the field of finance. To promote emerging research focusing on finance technology, diverse machine learning and artificial intelligence techniques for large and complex finance data have been developed. To present modern machine learning data analysis methods in economics and finance, a Special Issue of the Journal of Risk and Financial Management, will be devoted to “Machine Learning Applications in Finance, 2nd Edition”.
