

Special Issue

Empirical and Quantitative Finance

Message from the Guest Editor

This Topical Collection welcomes the submission of high-quality research papers in all fields of finance, with a particular emphasis on empirical and quantitative modeling. Areas of interest include, but are not limited to, asset pricing, corporate finance, financial econometrics, financial management, banking, international finance, market microstructure, portfolio risk and management, and algorithmic trading. Given the increasing trend in the digitalization of financial services and products, it will also pay dedicated attention to papers using big data, data analytic methods, and AI models to analyze the dynamics of financial markets and securities.
