

Special Issue

Corporate Finance and Governance in a Changing Global Environment

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue explores the evolving dynamics of corporate finance and governance amid the challenges of a rapidly changing global environment. As firms operate under increasing economic uncertainty, regulatory shifts, geopolitical risks, and sustainability demands, interactions between governance mechanisms and financial decision-making have taken on new urgency and complexity. We welcome theoretical and empirical contributions that examine how corporate governance affects financial decisions related to capital structure, investment, dividends, risk-taking, and firm resilience. Submissions may also explore how institutional contexts, ownership structures, board characteristics, and stakeholder expectations influence corporate financial behavior across both emerging and developed markets. By fostering cross-disciplinary perspectives from finance, law, management, and economics, this Special Issue aims to provide deeper insight into how governance practices shape corporate financial outcomes in today's globalized and uncertain environment.
