

Special Issue

Advances in Urban Planning and Sustainable Mobility

Message from the Guest Editors

Urban planning and sustainable mobility are critical to creating cities that are not only functional but also environmentally friendly and inclusive. This Special Issue aims to bring together researchers and practitioners from various disciplines and regions to advance our understanding of the complex relationships between urban planning and sustainable mobility. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Holistic approaches and strategic visions to promote urban mobility;
- Urban planning policies and initiatives for promoting walking, cycling, and public transportation;
- Fifteen-minute cities: redesigning urban spaces for local living and sustainable mobility;
- Sustainable mobility and greener streets;
- The role of micromobility in sustainable urban transportation;
- Impacts of electric, autonomous, and shared vehicles on sustainable urban mobility;
- Community engagement and participation in sustainable urban planning;
- ...

We Look forward to receiving your submission.
