

Special Issue

Spatial Planning and Land-Use Management: 2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, we encourage researchers to submit their manuscripts on the following topics:

- Spatial planning, land-use management, and decision-making contributions to the Sustainable Development Goals 2030, The United Nations Decade on Ecosystem Restoration (2021-2030), the European Green Deal, and related documents such as the Fit for 55 package, Zero Pollution Action for 2050, Biodiversity Strategy for 2030, European Forest Conservation Strategy, or From Farm to Fork strategy;
- The role of green infrastructure and natural-based solutions, including food systems for sustainable regional and local spatial planning;
- Spatial planning and energy transition, including emerging conflicts and new territorial opportunities;
- Land-use conflicts in future scenarios;
- Land-use and circular-economy planning options;
- Land-use changes, mobility, and accessibility patterns;
- Participatory land-use planning (using methods and tools to support multi-stakeholder planning approaches) and systemic thinking;

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Land is the only open access journal covering all aspects of land science, and it is a pioneering platform for publishing on land system science. Our editorial board is comprised of eminent scholars. We publish high quality research on societally relevant, emerging and innovative topics and results in land system research. It is now one of the top land journals with a significant impact factor, and has a goal to become the best journal in land in the coming years. I strongly recommend Land for your best research publications for a fast dissemination of your research.
