

Special Issue

Rural Tourism Development: Land Use, Ecosystem Services, and Community Interactions (Second Edition)

Message from the Guest Editors

Following the success of the Special Issue "Rural Tourism Development: Land Use, Ecosystem Services, and Community Interactions", we are happy to announce the opening of a second volume. This Special Issue welcomes both original research articles and review papers that link the following themes:

- Advances in rural land-use changes and landscapes based on the rural and cultural tourism potential of rural habitats;
- Economic spatial changes in rural areas based on the recent industrial changes;
- The emergence of service-led activities in rural areas as a consequence of rural-urban spatial interactions;
- Rural and cultural tourism studies, ecotourism, and cultural community interactions;
- The capitalization of the cultural heritage of rural areas through the lens of contemporary trends in local and regional economic development;
- Sustainable rural development through tourism, land-use change, and community interactions.

We look forward to receiving your submissions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Land is the only open access journal covering all aspects of land science, and it is a pioneering platform for publishing on land system science. Our editorial board is comprised of eminent scholars. We publish high quality research on societally relevant, emerging and innovative topics and results in land system research. It is now one of the top land journals with a significant Impact Factor, and has a goal to become the best journal in land in the coming years.
