Adult and Child Sentence Processing When Reading or Writing

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to submit a manuscript for a Special Issue of Languages titled “Adult and Child Sentence Processing When Reading or Writing”. In this Special Issue, original research articles, reviews, and squib-like articles (no longer than 5000 words) are welcome. Contributions may range from descriptive to formal and experimental approaches, including eye-movements, brain imaging, etc. Comparative studies are strongly encouraged (between populations, languages, reading and writing...) as well as questioning the nature of linguistic mechanisms in production and reception. We request that interested authors initially submit a proposed title and abstract of approximately 400–600 words, summarizing their intended contribution. Please send it to both the , Georgeta Cislaru (gcislaru@parisnanterre.fr) and Philippe Martin (philippe.martin@utoronto.ca), as well as to the Languages Editorial Office (languages@mdpi.com). Abstracts will be reviewed by the for the purposes of ensuring proper fit within the scope of the Special Issue. Full manuscripts will undergo double-blind peer review.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Languages (ISSN 2226-471X) is now in its eighth year since its inception in 2015. It is an Open Access journal which seeks to stimulate debates on key issues in languages and linguistics. We welcome papers at the cutting edge of different fields, ranging from applied linguistics to descriptive and theoretical linguistics. Submissions may consist of research articles and critical reviews as well as proposals for Special Issues where multi-disciplinary approaches and different perspectives on current issues are explored. We invite you to consider Languages as a forum for sharing your work.
