

Special Issue

The Future of Labor Rights: Global Perspectives and Emerging Challenges

Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, we invite contributions which investigate the global, international and national challenges faced by labour and the potential of Labour Rights to address and respond to these challenges.

We seek to give voice to a wide range of different perspectives on this issue, and invite contributions from any global legal jurisdiction and approaches which adopt different methodological and interdisciplinary approaches to the question of the changing context and content of labour rights.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Laws is an international, open access journal featuring rigorous scholarship on critical developments in governance, courts, agencies, and social order. Analysis and synthesis, theory and practice, and empirical and doctrinal work have appeared in the journal; contributions that bridge these traditional boundaries are particularly welcome. The social sciences and humanities generate insights both from and for the legal system. While theory grounds Laws in a timeless dialogue shaped by traditions of inquiry, legal practice ensures that scholars are addressing pressing problems. Both normative and positive scholarship can aid policymakers, judges, and agency officials. Laws brings together the work of theorists and practitioners, and a diverse range of empirical researchers, to promote the progress of foundational legal norms.
