Message from the Guest Editors

We invite you to contribute to our upcoming Special Issue on "Innovative Approaches in Dermatological Therapies and Diagnostics", which Special Issue aims to explore recent advancements, innovative methodologies, and significant findings in the diagnosis and treatment of dermatological conditions. For diagnostic innovations, potential topics include, but are not limited to, non-invasive diagnostic methods, such as dermoscopy and confocal microscopy; line-field confocal optical coherence tomography; and the emerging role of artificial intelligence in skin diagnostics. Regarding therapeutic innovations, potential topics include the development of novel therapies for skin cancer treatment, the progress of biological drugs in treating inflammatory diseases, the growing use of new JAK inhibitors, and the use of plant-derived products for various dermatological conditions. We encourage the submission of review articles, perspectives, or original research that explore innovative therapeutic strategies and diagnostic techniques across all areas of dermatology.
