Metabolic Plasticity in Cancer

Message from the Guest Editors

It is our privilege to invite you to contribute meaningful articles, including original research and reviews, to our Special Issue: Metabolic Plasticity in Cancer. The field of cancer metabolism is rapidly growing, and discoveries related to the plasticity of cancer cells and their innate ability to swiftly use different sources of energy are becoming increasingly important. We encourage contributions that discuss the dynamic metabolic behavior of cancer cells as well as cancer stem cells and their use of various metabolic pathways, including but not limited to oxidative phosphorylation, fatty acid metabolism, and glycolysis.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Life (ISSN 2075-1729) is an international, peer-reviewed open access journal that publishes scientific studies related to fundamental themes in life sciences. Some papers are published individually, while others are submitted for inclusion in special issues with guest editors. You are invited to contribute a research article, essay, or a review to be considered for publication.
