Frontiers in Neuroimmunology

Message from the Guest Editor

"Frontiers in Neuroimmunology" is dedicated to promoting and improving the basic and translational knowledge of how the human nervous system and immune systems interact and how these interactions lead to disease processes and the progress of and prognostication of these disorders. Neuroimmunology plays a key role in four leading disorders (stroke, migraine, dementia, and neurotrauma) responsible for nearly 80% of death and disability in low to middle-income countries with an opportunity to improve care globally. The COVID-19 pandemic is a timely reminder of the importance of neuroinflammation in brain health given the shared pathobiology of COVID-19, acute stroke, and many other acquired neurological disorders. We welcome your submissions to "Frontiers in Neuroimmunology".

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Life (ISSN 2075-1729) is an international, peer-reviewed open access journal that publishes scientific studies related to fundamental themes in life sciences. Some papers are published individually, while others are submitted for inclusion in special issues with guest editors. You are invited to contribute a research article, essay, or a review to be considered for publication.
