Global Developments in Musculoskeletal Health Research and Practice

Message from the Guest Editors

We are delighted to announce this Special Issue and invite original research articles and reviews focusing on current developments and research in musculoskeletal health and management. We aim to provide a platform for researchers and practitioners from around the globe to showcase current developments within the field. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, clinical advancements, innovative therapeutic approaches, culturally sensitive research and practice, and epidemiological studies related to MSK disorders. We encourage submissions that address the unique challenges faced in different contexts, promote equitable healthcare practices, and contribute to a holistic understanding of MSK health. Recognizing that meaningful and impactful high-quality research needs to include diverse voices from a variety of contexts—topically, geographically, and disciplinary—this Special Issue aims to create an equitable and inclusive space for all contributors. By showcasing diverse perspectives and cutting-edge research, this Special Issue seeks to enhance global collaboration and inform effective MSK management strategies.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Life (ISSN 2075-1729) is an international, peer-reviewed open access journal that publishes scientific studies related to fundamental themes in life sciences. Some papers are published individually, while others are submitted for inclusion in special issues with guest editors. You are invited to contribute a research article, essay, or a review to be considered for publication.
