

Special Issue

Blue Revolution and Aquatic Life

Message from the Guest Editors

In the perspective of the Blue Revolution, the current Special Issue concerns the integration of generations of aquatic plants and aquatic animals and the aquaculture products resulting from these generations. For this objective, we welcome the submission of high-quality research articles, review articles, and short communications that provide recent insights into the several aspects of the Blue Revolution, such as, but not limited to, integration of generations of aquatic organisms, sustainable development of aquatic organisms, immunity of aquatic animals, IMTA, PBR, RAS, aquaponic systems, treatment of aquaculture effluent, seaweed/microalgae co-culture, fish/shrimp/mollusks/seaweed co-cultures, and algal cell extracts and products.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Life (ISSN 2075-1729) is an international, peer-reviewed open access journal that publishes scientific studies related to fundamental themes in life sciences. Some papers are published individually, while others are submitted for inclusion in special issues with guest editors. You are invited to contribute a research article, essay, or a review to be considered for publication.
