Special Issue

Machines throughout History for Technological Development: Analysis from Engineering Graphics

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue invites researchers to submit original research papers and review articles related to any engineering discipline in which theoretical or practical issues of engineering graphics applied to notable historical inventions are considered. The topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- engineering graphics;
- computer-aided design;
- computer-aided engineering;
- industrial design;
- geometric modeling;
- virtual reality;
- augmented reality;
- computer animation.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Machines is an international, peer reviewed journal on machinery and engineering. It publishes research articles, reviews and communications.

Our aim is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical results in as much detail as possible. There is no restriction on the length of the papers. Full experimental and/or methodical details must be provided.

There are, in addition, unique features of this journal: Manuscripts regarding research proposals and research ideas will be particularly welcomed; Electronic files or software regarding the full details of the calculation and experimental procedure - if unable to be published in a normal way can be deposited as supplementary material.

Editor-in-Chief

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Mechanical) / CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
