Message from the Guest Editors

The main goal of this Special Issue "Marine Glycoconjugates: Trends and Perspectives" is to provide a convenient platform for discussion of all possible scientific aspects concerning low molecular weight and biopolymer glycoconjugates of marine origin, their isolation and chemical structures, taxonomical distribution, methods of analysis, biological activities, biosynthesis and evolution, biological roles and chemical syntheses including the obtaining of semi-synthetic derivatives of biological active natural products. For further reading, please see at the Special Issue Website.

We encourage you to share your findings by contributing to this Special Issue "Marine Glycoconjugates: Trends and Perspectives". Feel free to contact Marine Drugs Editorial Office <marinedrugs@mdpi.com> if you would like to make a contribution or have any questions.

Deadline for manuscript submissions:

closed (20 November 2019)

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

During the past few decades there has been an ever increasing number of novel compounds discovered in the marine environment. This is exemplified by the robust preclinical and clinical pipeline that currently exists for marine natural products. Marine Drugs is inviting contributions on new advances in marine biotechnology, pharmacology, chemical ecology, synthetic biology, and genomics approaches related to the discovery of therapeutically relevant marine natural products. Our goal is to share your contribution in a timely fashion and in a manner that will be valued by the scientific community.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Embase, PubAg, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Pharmacology and Pharmacy) / CiteScore - Q1 (Pharmacology, Toxicology and Pharmaceutics (miscellaneous))
