Message from the Guest Editor

The Special Issue “Corrosion of Nonferrous Metals and Their Alloys” will address advances in materials science, processing, characterization, technology development, and corrosion testing of various nonferrous metals and their alloys. Authors are invited to submit original research articles dealing with all types of corrosion processes of any kind of nonferrous metals and their alloys. Moreover, articles describing the lowering of corrosion rate, corrosion kinetics, mechanisms behind the corrosion processes or methods of improving corrosion resistance by implementing nonferrous coatings are welcome as well. The submitted articles can describe all types of corrosion, including wet corrosion, high temperature oxidation, hot corrosion, etc.

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The journal covers twenty comprehensive topics: biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites, structure analysis and characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and systems, advanced nanomaterials, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials and carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion and materials degradation, construction and building materials, materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics, metals and alloys, general. The distinguished and dedicated editorial board and our strict peer-review process ensure the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.
