Deadline for manuscript submissions: closed (10 August 2023)

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue is a continuation of the previous successful issue: "Smart Materials and Devices for Energy Harvesting". This time, we want to encourage contributions on emerging smart materials and techniques. Energy harvesting is one of the key enabling technologies for the IoT world. It allows a sustainable powering of wireless sensors, medical implants and low-power electronics in general, exploiting environmental/anthropic available energy, otherwise wasted.

With this email, it is our pleasure to invite you to submit a manuscript for this Special Issue. Full papers, communications, and reviews on the properties, modeling, and characterizations of materials and devices are all welcome.

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The iournal covers twenty-five comprehensive topics: biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites. advanced materials characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and svstems. advanced nanomaterials and nanotechnology, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials, carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion, construction and building materials. materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics and glasses, metals and alloys, soft matter, polymeric materials, quantum materials, mechanics of materials, green materials, general. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Ei Compendex, CaPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Metallurgy & Metallurgical Engineering) / CiteScore - Q2 (Condensed Matter Physics)
