

Special Issue

State-of-the-Art Materials Science in Belgium 2017

Message from the Guest Editor

Dear colleagues, This special issue aims at collecting an overview of materials research activities in Belgium. Research topics include, but are not limited to:

- Methods for the synthesis of new materials in powder, bulk or thin film form.
- Surface modification or functionalization of materials.
- Optical, electrical, mechanical or magnetic properties of materials.
- New methods for materials characterization.
- Material degradation and protection.
- Applications of advanced functional materials.
- Technologies for separation and recycling.

It is my pleasure to invite you to submit manuscripts on the subject “State-of-the-Art Materials Science in Belgium” for this Special Issue. Full papers, communications, as well as comprehensive reviews are welcome. Please feel free contact me as guest editor in case of further questions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The journal covers twenty-five comprehensive topics: biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites, advanced materials characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and systems, advanced nanomaterials and nanotechnology, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials, carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion, construction and building materials, materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics and glasses, metals and alloys, soft matter, polymeric materials, quantum materials, mechanics of materials, green materials, general. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.
